In an effort to prevent abuse before it begins, to protect victims of domestic violence and to prevail over violence in our homes, neighborhoods and community, The Shelter offers an array of life-transforming programs including:

Emergency Shelter

Victims of family violence and their pets find safety in our progressive 60-bed residential shelter complete with on-site kennel. While residing in our highly-secure Beau Venturi Home, survivors work at establishing personal empowerment through an array of life-transforming programs and services, such as safety planning, service management, counseling and more. This quarter, 134 individuals were sheltered, including 69 adults and 65 children... and their 19 pets.

Transitional Housing Program (THP)

The THP features four cottages that opened in 2008. The program was designed to provide a more thorough evolutionary experience from victim to survivor for adults and children who meet the requirements for participating in this innovative program. By helping program participants develop real world skills (paying bills, driving the kids to school and taking care of a house) while having The Shelter's support close at hand, we help reduce the risk of victims returning to their abusers.

During the third quarter of fiscal year 2012 – 2013, four adults and six children were living in the four cottages and transitioning back into lives of freedom from abuse.

Allstate Financial Literacy & Economic Justice

Classes offered in this innovative program include: Introduction & Purpose, Financial Abuse, Budgeting & Saving, Finance Management, Banking Options, Credit Basics, Building Financial Foundations, Investment and Insurance Options, Computer Education, Education Opportunities, Job Readiness, Getting the Job, and a final exam to practice the topics covered during the classes.

This quarter, 15 women participated in the 2013 Allstate Financial Literacy classes, offered in English, Spanish and Creole. Participants attending the program started Individual Development Accounts (IDAs) for a dollar to dollar match up to $500. A variety of community volunteers collaborated with The Shelter to ensure the success of the program.

Topics included financial abuse and safety planning; identity theft; budgeting and saving; creating abundance; banking options; credit basics; insurance; taxes; car maintenance; public library services; housing and job readiness.

An emergency shelter Advocate conducted financial abuse groups for adults and children residing in our safe-haven. Piggy banks were provided to the children in conjunction with a presentation on how to establish financial goals. During this quarter, 18 groups were held for eight adults and 36 children.

Advocates also provided advanced financial classes titled "Managing Your Portfolio II" for our Women of Means participants. A total of 11 self-identified affluent women attended classes through April. Additionally, the 2013 Women of Business Micro-loan classes were held with eight participants, five of which received micro-loans.

In March, The Shelter held the Women of Business classes with eight participants learning from a Business Analyst from Florida Gulf Coast University Small Business Development Center. The end result, their own business plans and micro-loans to get them started.

C'MON

Through a partnership with the Golisano Children's Museum of Naples (C'MON), children from both our emergency shelter and our Outreach programs enjoy interactive, educational programs hosted by C'MON staff.

For all three months, C'MON offered two programs to The Shelter's youngest participants with one being an activity and the other being an evening at the Museum complete with pizza dinner!

In January the children learned about snow and even made their own crystallized version. February focused on pottery with our younger residents making and decorating bowls out of clay. Additionally, colored dough was the March theme and each child participating baked and decorated the cookies with icing and sprinkles.

Primary Prevention

Hands Are for Helping

This program, delivered to elementary school children in Collier County, teaches non-violence and conflict-resolution skills to youngsters through interactive 'play' with a Shelter Advocate (blowing bubbles, playing instruments, etc.).

The "Hands" program curriculum focuses on the positive things children can do with their hands and how to stay safe with each child creating their own individualized safety plan and pledging to use his or her hands for helping.

This quarter, Shelter Advocates provided ten "Hands" classes with 677 children pledging to use their hands for helping, not hitting.

L.E.G.I.T. (Love, Education to Guide and Inform Teens) – Healthy Relationships

Designed to help teens identify the characteristics of healthy relationships in an effort to prevent dating violence, this program reaches out to middle and high school students in Collier County. A similar Healthy Relationships educational series, available through our Speaker's Bureau, is offered to adults of all ages. For more information, please call 239.775.3862.

Advocates presented 93 Teen Healthy Relationships classes to 5,426 attendees during the third quarter of the year.

Expect Respect

Based out of our Immokalee Outreach Office, this interactive program helps middle and high school students to change social norms about dating relationships to help create a respectful environment. This quarter, Shelter Advocates offered 33 presentations to 325 students in Immokalee.

Gentle'men Against Domestic Violence (GADV)

This primary prevention initiative helps stop violence before it begins by offering boys and young men insight into their attitudes, beliefs and behaviors about what it means to be a 'man' in today's society.

Our GADV Advocate facilitated 39 events this quarter, reaching 1,309 attendees with the message of what it means to be a true gentle'man and how they can contribute to ending violence. The program continues to expand and Staff offers services in new venues.

YAC

The Youth Advisory Council (YAC) is a group of Collier County youth between the ages of 12-20 focused on targeting and engaging their peers in social change to end dating violence. The group's mission is: To inspire social change by providing education, empowerment, advocacy and support to the community; to broaden and increase prevention of unhealthy relationships and break the cycle of violence.

While the Council didn't meet during this quarter, the members were active in the community. In January, they participated in the roll-out of the community-wide plan to end domestic violence as representatives of the Collier County Domestic Violence Task Force.

Additionally, they were involved in activities throughout the month of February for National Teen Dating Violence Awareness & Prevention Month.

DV Taskforce

The work of the Domestic Violence Task Force heightens awareness and brings about the social change necessary to make sure that no one is ever a victim or perpetrator of domestic violence. The Task Force includes The Aesthetic Surgery Center, Children's Advocacy Center, Collier County EMS, Collier County Family Law Attorneys, Collier County Men of Character, Collier County School District, Collier County Sheriff's Office, The David Lawrence Center, The Division of Children & Families, Florida Gulf Coast School of Criminal Justice, Haitian Leadership Network, Legal Aid, Marco Island Police Department, Mother Perry Foundation, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Naples Community Hospital, Naples Fire Department, Naples Police Department, Office of the Attorney General, Physicians Regional Medical Center, State Attorney's Office, The Youth Advisory Council and The Shelter for Abused Women & Children.

This Task Force united several components and created a comprehensive plan and coordinated community response for Collier County which was presented to the community on January 29, 2013. In March, another meeting was facilitated, creating a domestic violence course and supplemental internships to be offered at the Florida Gulf Coast University. The Domestic Violence Task Force continually identifies key stakeholders to engage in the process, resulting in initiatives that change the attitudes, beliefs, and social norms that lead to violence in our community at all levels. Together, the Task Force will continue to identify the best ways to address our community response to domestic violence, and work in concert to change the social norms that allow this global problem to exist.

Enhanced Service Programs

Intimate Violence Enhanced Services Team (InVEST)

Launched in the summer of 2009, The Intimate Violence Enhanced Services Team (InVEST) is a unique program designed to provide intensive service management and assistance to individuals identified to be in potentially lethal situations.

InVEST's unique model allows CCSO, Naples Police Department, Marco Island Police Department, Department of Children & Families (DCF), State Attorney's Office and The Shelter to work together to identify victims at high risk for domestic violence homicide and to enhance their possibility of receiving safety from further victimization. Together, we work with the survivor to share information, provide safety planning and possible aid in relocation.

InVEST participants receive services and advocacy throughout civil and/or criminal processes until their situations become safe or they choose to exit the program. These services are provided free of charge.

For the third quarter of the fiscal year, the InVEST Team reviewed 247 police reports, referring the individuals most at risk for domestic violence homicide (murder by a current or former partner/spouse) to the program.

Legal Services

The objective of The Shelter's legal services is to support or provide direct legal services on behalf of victims of domestic violence in civil matters directly related to domestic violence. This program provides support through Legal Aid Services of Collier County and Shelter Advocates. These services enable us to empower Shelter families, promote self-sufficiency and create a safer community by helping victims secure, modify and enforce protection orders; handle immigration issues; obtain a divorce or separation; obtain spousal and child support; and resolve custody and visitation issues.

For the third quarter of the fiscal year, The Shelter assisted with 19 Injunctions for Protection (IFP or restraining orders/orders for protection) and our Advocates provided Court assistance to 44 individuals; assisted with 141 criminal justice issues; 92 immigration cases and 117 other legal issues.

Violence Against Women Linguistically and Culturally Specific Victim Services

FCADV
Florida Coalition Against Domestic Violence

An alliance with The Department of Children & Families, Family Preservation Services, Redlands Christian Migrant Association, The Shelter's Immokalee Outreach Office and other community partners, this initiative is designed to reduce the number of children being removed from the homes of migrant farm workers who are survivors of domestic violence and involved in child abuse investigations based on the family history of domestic abuse. The ultimate goal is to keep the child safe and together with the non-offending parent.

During this quarter, Shelter Advocates distributed 195 Fotonovelas, 322 brochures/palm cards/resource guides and 45 educational videos, as well as developed 130 safety plans.

Additionally, the Child Welfare Specialist attended the Florida Coalition Against Domestic Violence (FCADV) Learning Exchange in Tampa and staff met with Redlands Christian Migrant Association twice, provided training to 65 individuals from the Farm Worker's Association and offered technical assistance with Lee Conlee House once.

The Shelter also maintained a full-time, bi-lingual domestic violence Advocate co-located onsite at the local DCF office and staff met with the RCMA Area Office Manager and the Florida Farm Workers Association Immokalee Manager.

The Shelter for Abused Women & Children is leading the community to prevent, protect and prevail over domestic violence through advocacy, empowerment and social change.
