

Galas | Gentle'men Against Domestic Violence Tailgate Party

Raising money; raising awareness; ending violence in the home

More than 180 men attended the Shelter for Abused Women & Children's Gentle'men Against Domestic Violence Tailgate Party on Feb. 22.

The signature event of the Gentle'men Against Domestic Violence at Bay Colony Golf Club raised more than $240,000 for the shelter as well as awareness for GADV's directive, which calls on men to stand with women as equal partners to stop domestic violence and break the cycle of domestic abuse.

GADV supports the shelter's eight-week Raising Gentle'men Program, a school-based curriculum presented to more than 3,400 young men in middle and high schools throughout Collier County. Raising Gentle'men advocates encourage boys and young men to challenge aggressive male stereotypes and be true gentlemen.

For more information on GADV, call Senior Development Director Tamika Seaton at 239-775-3862, ext. 217, or email tseaton@naplesshelter.org

FROM OUR CLIENTS

"Personally and professionally, David's integrity is above reproach, and you can tell that just a short time after working with him. It's just something you never have to think about with him. For the 10 years or so that we've been his clients, we have also always found him to be very easy to communicate with. Even beyond insurance investments, he has very good contacts throughout the financial advisory community."
